DEFINITIONS (for the purpose of this policy)

An "Employee" - Joe Johnson Equipment LLC may refer to an employee as "the employee", "employees", "staff", "team members" or specified position within Joe Johnson Equipment at various times throughout this policy manual.

POLICY

We expect that you will, from time to time, be making personal calls on company telephones (both landlines and mobile phones). Cellular Phones

All cellular phones provided by Joe Johnson Equipment LLC must first be approved. Namely, no staff can simply go purchase a cell phone and charge the bill to Joe Johnson Equipment LLC. This includes replacement mobile phones.

All relevant staff with a company provided cell phone must have a message that clearly identifies to the caller that they have reached Joe Johnson Equipment LLC and identifies the user of the cell-phone. When traveling to the US/Canada for any length of time on business, please notify the IT Department prior to the departure date so your cell phone plan can be changed temporarily to a US/Canadian plan for the duration of the trip. What Is “Sexual Harassment”?

Sexual harassment is a form of sex discrimination and is unlawful under federal, state, and (where applicable) local law. Sexual harassment includes harassment on the basis of sex, sexual orientation, self- identified or perceived sex, gender expression, gender identity and the status of being transgender.

Sexual harassment is unlawful when it subjects an individual to inferior terms, conditions, or privileges of employment. Harassment need not be severe or pervasive to be unlawful, and can be any harassing conduct that consists of more than petty slights or trivial inconveniences. Sexual harassment includes unwelcome conduct which is either of a sexual nature, or which is directed at an individual because of that individual’s sex when:

- Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual’s work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment, even if the reporting individual is not the intended target of the sexual harassment;
- Such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of employment; or
- Submission to or rejection of such conduct is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting an individual’s employment.

A sexually harassing hostile work environment includes, but is not limited to, words, signs, jokes, pranks, intimidation or physical violence which are of a sexual nature, or which are directed at an individual because of that individual’s sex. Sexual harassment also consists of any unwanted verbal or physical advances, sexually explicit derogatory statements or sexually discriminatory remarks made by someone which are offensive or objectionable to the recipient, which cause the recipient discomfort or humiliation, which interfere with the recipient’s job performance.

|---|-------------------------------|---------------------------|----------------|
| USP137 – Workplace Sexual Harassment Policy | General Policies & Procedures | Review Date: July 2018 | Revision Date: |

Sexual harassment also occurs when a person in authority tries to trade job benefits for sexual favors. This can include hiring, promotion, continued employment or any other terms, conditions or privileges of employment. This is also called “quid pro quo” harassment.

Any employee who feels harassed should report so that any violation of this policy can be corrected promptly. Any harassing conduct, even a single incident, can be addressed under this policy.

Examples of sexual harassment

The following describes some of the types of acts that may be unlawful sexual harassment and that are strictly prohibited:

- Physical acts of a sexual nature, such as:
- Touching, pinching, patting, kissing, hugging, grabbing, brushing against another employee’s body or poking another employee’s body;
- Rape, sexual battery, molestation or attempts to commit these assaults.
- Unwanted sexual advances or propositions, such as:
 - Requests for sexual favors accompanied by implied or overt threats concerning the target’s job performance evaluation, a promotion or their job benefits or detriments;
- Subtle or obvious pressure for unwelcome sexual activities.
- Sexually oriented gestures, noises, remarks or jokes, or comments about a person’s sexuality or sexual experience, which create a hostile work environment.
- Sex stereotyping occurs when conduct or personality traits are considered inappropriate simply because they may not conform to other people's ideas or perceptions about how individuals of a particular sex should act or look.
- Sexual or discriminatory displays or publications anywhere in the workplace, such as:
 - Displaying pictures, posters, calendars, graffiti, objects, promotional material, reading materials or other materials that are sexually demeaning or pornographic. This includes such sexual displays on workplace computers or cell phones and sharing such displays while in the workplace.
- Hostile actions taken against an individual because of that individual’s sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and the status of being transgender, such as:
 - Interfering with, destroying or damaging a person’s workstation, tools or equipment, or otherwise interfering with the individual’s ability to perform the job;
 - Sabotaging an individual’s work;
 - Bullying, yelling, name-calling.

Who can be a target of sexual harassment?

Sexual harassment can occur between any individuals, regardless of their sex or gender. New York Law protects employees, paid or unpaid interns, and non-employees, including independent contractors, and those employed by companies contracting to provide services in the workplace. Harassers can be a superior, a subordinate, a coworker or anyone in the workplace including an independent contractor, contract worker, vendor, client, customer or visitor.

Where can sexual harassment occur?

Unlawful sexual harassment is not limited to the physical workplace itself. It can occur while employees are traveling for business or at employer sponsored events or parties. Calls, texts, emails, and social media usage by employees can constitute unlawful workplace harassment, even if they occur away from the workplace premises, on personal devices or during non-work hours.

Retaliation

Unlawful retaliation can be any action that could discourage a worker from coming forward to make or support a sexual harassment claim. Adverse action need not be job-related or occur in the workplace to constitute unlawful retaliation (e.g., threats of physical violence outside of work hours).

Such retaliation is unlawful under federal, state, and (where applicable) local law. The New York State Human Rights Law protects any individual who has engaged in “protected activity.” Protected activity occurs when a person has:

- made a complaint of sexual harassment, either internally or with any anti-discrimination agency;
- testified or assisted in a proceeding involving sexual harassment under the Human Rights Law or other anti-discrimination law;
- opposed sexual harassment by making a verbal or informal complaint to management, or by simply informing a supervisor or manager of harassment;
- reported that another employee has been sexually harassed; or
- encouraged a fellow employee to report harassment.

Even if the alleged harassment does not turn out to rise to the level of a violation of law, the individual is protected from retaliation if the person had a good faith belief that the practices were unlawful. However, the retaliation provision is not intended to protect persons making intentionally false charges of harassment.

Reporting Sexual Harassment

Preventing sexual harassment is everyone’s responsibility. The Company cannot prevent or remedy sexual harassment unless it knows about it. Any employee, paid or unpaid intern or non-employee who has been subjected to behavior that may constitute sexual harassment is encouraged to report such behavior to a supervisor, manager or a Company Human Resources representative. Anyone who witnesses or becomes aware of potential instances of sexual harassment should report such behavior to a supervisor, manager or Company Human Resources representative.

Reports of sexual harassment may be made verbally or in writing. A form for submission of a written complaint is attached to this Policy, and all employees are encouraged to use this complaint form. Employees who are reporting sexual harassment on behalf of other employees should use the complaint form and note that it is on another employee’s behalf.

Employees, paid or unpaid interns or non-employees who believe they have been a target of sexual harassment may also seek assistance in other available forums, as explained below in the section on Legal Protections.

Supervisory Responsibilities

All supervisors and managers who receive a complaint or information about suspected sexual harassment, observe what may be sexually harassing behavior or for any reason suspect that sexual harassment is occurring, are required to report such suspected sexual harassment to a Company Human Resources representative. In addition to being subject to discipline if they engaged in sexually harassing conduct themselves, supervisors and managers will be subject to discipline for failing to report suspected sexual harassment or otherwise knowingly allowing sexual harassment to continue. Supervisors and managers will also be subject to discipline for engaging in any retaliation.

Complaint and Investigation of Sexual Harassment

All complaints or information about sexual harassment will be investigated, whether that information was reported in verbal or written form. Investigations will be conducted in a timely manner, and will be confidential to the extent possible.

An investigation of any complaint, information or knowledge of suspected sexual harassment will be prompt and thorough, commenced immediately and completed as soon as possible. The investigation will be kept confidential to the extent possible. All persons involved, including complainants, witnesses and alleged harassers will be accorded due process, as outlined below, to protect their rights to a fair and impartial investigation.

Any employee may be required to cooperate as needed in an investigation of suspected sexual harassment. The Company will not tolerate retaliation against employees who file complaints, support another’s complaint or participate in an investigation regarding a violation of this policy.

While the process may vary from case to case, investigations should be done in accordance with the following steps:

- Upon receipt of complaint, a Company Human Resources representative will conduct an immediate review of the allegations, and take any interim actions (e.g., instructing the respondent to refrain from communications with the complainant), as appropriate. If complaint is verbal, encourage the individual to complete the “Complaint Form” in writing. If he or she refuses, prepare a Complaint Form based on the verbal reporting.
- If documents, emails or phone records are relevant to the investigation, take steps to obtain and preserve them.
- Request and review all relevant documents, including all electronic communications.
- Interview all parties involved, including any relevant witnesses;
- Create a written documentation of the investigation (such as a letter, memo or email), which contains the following:
 - A list of all documents reviewed, along with a detailed summary of relevant documents;
 - A list of names of those interviewed, along with a detailed summary of their statements;
 - A timeline of events;

- ☐ A summary of prior relevant incidents, reported or unreported; and
- ☐ The basis for the decision and final resolution of the complaint, togetherwith any corrective action(s).
- Keep the written documentation and associated documents in a secure and confidential location.
- Promptly notify the individual who reported and the individual(s) about whom the complaint was made of the final determination and implement any corrective actions identified in the written document.
- Inform the individual who reported of the right to file a complaint or charge externally as outlined in the next section.

Legal Protections And External Remedies

Sexual harassment is not only prohibited by the Company but is also prohibited by state, federal, and, where applicable, local law.

Aside from the internal process at the Company, employees may also choose to pursue legal remedies with the following governmental entities. While a private attorney is not required to file a complaint with a governmental agency, you may seek the legal advice of an attorney.

In addition to those outlined below, employees in certain industries may have additional legal protections.

State Human Rights Law (HRL)

The Human Rights Law (HRL), codified as N.Y. Executive Law, art. 15, § 290 et seq., applies to all employers in New York State with regard to sexual harassment, and protects employees, paid or unpaid interns and non-employees, regardless of immigration status. A complaint alleging violation of the Human Rights Law may be filed either with the Division of Human Rights (DHR) or in New York State Supreme Court.

Complaints with DHR may be filed any time within one year (three years beginning August 12, 2020) of the harassment. If an individual did not file at DHR, they can sue directly in state court under the HRL, within three years of the alleged sexual harassment. An individual may not file with DHR if they have already filed a HRL complaint in state court.

Complaining internally to the Company does not extend your time to file with DHR or in court. The one year or three years is counted from date of the most recent incident of harassment.

You do not need an attorney to file a complaint with DHR, and there is no cost to file with DHR. DHR will investigate your complaint and determine whether there is probable cause to believe that sexual harassment has occurred. Probable cause cases are forwarded to a public hearing before an administrative law judge. If sexual harassment is found after a hearing, DHR has the power to award relief, which varies but may include requiring your employer to take action to stop the harassment, or redress the damage caused, including paying of monetary damages, attorney’s fees and civil fines.

DHR’s main office contact information is: NYS Division of Human Rights, One Fordham Plaza, Fourth Floor, Bronx, New York 10458. You may call (718) 741-8400 or visit: www.dhr.ny.gov.

Contact DHR at (888) 392-3644 or visit dhr.ny.gov/complaint for more information about filing a complaint. The website has a complaint form that can be downloaded, filled out, notarized and mailed to DHR. The website also contains contact information for DHR’s regional offices across New York State.

Civil Rights Act of 1964

The United States Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) enforces federal anti-discrimination laws, including Title VII of the 1964 federal Civil Rights Act (codified as 42 U.S.C. § 2000e et seq.). An individual can file a complaint with the EEOC anytime within 300 days from the harassment. There is no cost to file a complaint with the EEOC. The EEOC will investigate the complaint, and determine whether there is reasonable cause to believe that discrimination has occurred, at which point the EEOC will issue a Right to Sue letter permitting the individual to file a complaint in federal court.

The EEOC does not hold hearings or award relief, but may take other action including pursuing cases in federal court on behalf of complaining parties. Federal courts may award remedies if discrimination is found to have occurred. In general, private employers must have at least 15 employees to come within the jurisdiction of the EEOC.

An employee alleging discrimination at work can file a “Charge of Discrimination.” The EEOC has district, area, and field offices where complaints can be filed. Contact the EEOC by calling 1- 800-669-4000 (TTY: 1- 800-669-6820), visiting their website at www.eeoc.gov or via email at info@eeoc.gov.

If an individual filed an administrative complaint with DHR, DHR will file the complaint with the EEOC to preserve the right to proceed in federal court.

Local Protections

Many localities enforce laws protecting individuals from sexual harassment and discrimination. An individual should contact the county, city or town in which they live to find out if such a law exists. For example, employees who work in New York City may file complaints of sexual harassment with the New York City Commission on Human Rights. Contact their main office at Law Enforcement Bureau of the NYC Commission on Human Rights, 22 Reade Street, 1st Floor, New York, New York; call 311 or (212) 306-7450; or visit www.nyc.gov/html/cchr/html/home/home.shtml.

Contact the Local Police Department

If the harassment involves unwanted physical touching, coerced physical confinement or coerced sex acts, the conduct may constitute a crime. Contact the local police department.

- Where the violation has been affirmed, the Company will take appropriate consequential action and a final report will be completed by Human Resources and kept in a separate file within the department. |--|-------------------------------|--------------|----------------------------|

- Where the violation has not been affirmed, no action will be taken against an employee who has made a complaint in good faith or the alleged harasser. The Company will not, in any way, retaliate against an individual who makes a genuine concerned report of suspected harassment. In this case, no documentation of the incident will be placed in the accused or the Complainant's file.
- Based on the investigation finding, those parties conducting the investigation shall discuss the results with the Complainant and the alleged Harasser.

Confidentially

Any allegation of harassment brought to Management's attention will be promptly investigated in a confidential manner to the extent possible to protect the privacy of the persons involved. Post-Accident Testing

Any employee who is involved in an on-the-job accident may be directed to take a drug and alcohol-screening test before returning to work if, in the view of management, drugs and/or alcohol may have been a contributing factor. This policy applies to accidents whether or not injury or loss of property occurs. Drug and alcohol testing may be required when an employee’s actions cause any accident, which results in personal injury requiring medical care or damage to property.

All surviving drivers will be tested for alcohol and illegal substances as soon as practicable following an on-the-job occurrence involving a motor vehicle operating on a public road. An employee subject to post-accident testing shall remain readily available for testing or will be deemed by the employer to have refused to submit to testing.

An employee who is required to participate in a drug or alcohol rehabilitation program will be scheduled for follow-up unannounced drug and alcohol tests after returning to work.

Employees may be required to take an unannounced drug and alcohol test if such a test is deemed necessary to assist management in the investigation of suspected illegal drug use within the Company.

Drug and Alcohol Testing Process

Employees will be tested for the presence of drugs by collecting a urine specimen or through the use of other appropriate methods. The specimens are tested at a laboratory licensed by the State and certified by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

The test for alcohol involves the use of an evidentiary breath-testing instrument. If the test result is positive, the employee may request a blood sample be taken to confirm the presence of alcohol.

For a positive drug test or a test for alcohol involving a blood sample, a licensed physician designated as the Company’s Medical Review Officer (MRO) will review the results of the laboratory test and applicable records. The MRO will provide the employee with an opportunity to discuss the findings prior to the confirmation of a positive drug or blood alcohol test and prior to notification of the result to any designated company employee.

To facilitate employee and public safety, the MRO may temporarily remove an employee from a safety sensitive position pending completion of the review.

All drug and alcohol test results will be maintained by management as part of an employee’s medical record and will be treated with the strictest confidence. Information regarding test results will not be divulged without first advising the employee and such information and will only be communicated on a need-to-know basis.

Management Action and Disciplinary Process

Illegal Drug Involvement

Following an investigation by the Company, an employee who is determined to have been involved in the possession, sale, manufacture, distribution or use of illegal drugs during working hours, on company property or at a work site will be terminated.

Positive Test Result for Illegal Drugs

|---|-------------------------------|--------------|----------------------------|
| USP113 – Alcohol & Substance Use Policy | General Policies & Procedures | Review Date: | Revision Date: Oct 2018 |

An employee, who for the first time tests positive for an illegal drug, as confirmed by the MRO, will be suspended for up to five (5) days without pay and will be required to seek assistance or counseling.

The employee must have a return to work drug test with negative test results prior to returning to work.

The employee may be subject to unannounced drug testing for a minimum period of one year.

A second confirmed positive test for illegal drugs will result in immediate termination.

Positive Test Result for Alcohol

An alcohol test below .02 BAC will be considered a negative test; results above that limit will be considered positive.

If a confirmatory blood test is administered, any level of alcohol found in the blood will confirm the breath alcohol test as positive under the direction of the MRO.

The following actions will be taken for a positive alcohol test.

- ◆ All positive test results will be handled on a case-by-case basis. Therefore, at a minimum the following disciplinary actions apply:
 - First Occurrence – the employee will be suspended for five days without pay and will be required to seek assistance/counseling.
 - Second Occurrence – the employee will be immediately terminated.

Subverting the Drug Testing Process

If a specimen is identified as being a substitute specimen or adulterated to change the outcome of the drug test result, the test will be considered a refusal to test.

Drug and Alcohol Test Refusal

A refusal to provide for a drug and/or alcohol test, failure to appear for a scheduled test when notified, subverting the drug testing process, or any other behavior which compromises the integrity of the testing program or process will result in discipline up to and including termination.

Appeal Process:

An employee may appeal a confirmed positive drug test within 72 hours of being notified by the MRO. The appeal is a reanalysis of the employee's original urine specimen, which will be conducted by the original laboratory or by another certified laboratory. The employee will be responsible for the cost of this reanalysis.

The employee's request for reanalysis does not alter action associated with a confirmed positive test unless or until such test results are deemed to have been incorrect. The employee is responsible for requesting an appeal directly from the MRO.

Drug and Alcohol Rehabilitation:

As the purpose of the drug and alcohol-testing program is to promote health and safety, the Company encourages employees to get assistance in resolving any personal problems that may arise. An employee who voluntarily requests assistance in resolving a drug or alcohol abuse problem will be encouraged to participate in an assistance/counseling program.

| | | | |
|---|-------------------------------|--------------|----------------------------|
| USP113 – Alcohol & Substance Use Policy | General Policies & Procedures | Review Date: | Revision Date: Oct 2018 |

Participation in an assistance/counseling program does not relieve the employee from job expectation requirements.

Participation will not jeopardize the employee's job provided the employee stops all involvement with illegal drug and/or alcohol abuse and maintains satisfactory work performance.

After successful completion of the counseling program, the employee may be subject to an unannounced drug and alcohol-testing program.

A subsequent confirmed positive drug and/or alcohol test will result in further disciplinary actions, up to and including termination.

The employee will remain subject to disciplinary actions for previous violations of company policies.

The cost of the counseling/rehabilitation program will be the responsibility of the employee.

POLICY

Time worked is all hours actually spent on the job performing assigned duties with Managements permission. Employees and Managers shall also accurately record the hours away from their regular shift for personal reasons.

All employees are given a half-hour UNPAID lunch. This time must be deducted from the time cards prior to submission for payroll. For example, an hourly employee who normally works 8:00 am to 4:30 pm, with a half hour off for lunch, would equal a standard 8 hour day.

Non-exempt employees are expected to take their full lunch break and are requested not to perform work during this time. An employee who works a shift of more than six hours, which extends over the noonday meal period (from 11:00 A.M. until 2:00 P.M.) is required to take at least 30 minutes off within that period for the noon meal.

Falsifying or tampering with any time records may result in disciplinary action.

Scheduled Hours

Each employee will have a scheduled shift/hours that the individual is required to fill in order to meet the requirements of the position and the Company. From time to time, these hours may change temporarily or permanently depending on what is required. Such hours will be determined by the Manager and agreed

Salaried employee will receive their regular scheduled compensation when personal absence is due to personal illness not greater than 3 consecutive days. Please refer to the Attendance Management Policy in the event of an absence. In the event the policy is abused or excessively used to the employee's advantage, the company can request evidence at any time as it applies, and may lead to disciplinary action.

Exceptions shall include a charitable donation or a non-monetary gift which value does not exceed $100.00. Pregnancy is considered a temporary disability within the meaning of the State Human Rights Law and as such entitles pregnant women to disability benefits for the period she is certified by her doctor as unable to work. It requires all covered employers to treat claims filed for pregnancy- related disabilities the same as claims for any other disability.

Specifically, benefits are payable for up to 26 weeks to eligible employees who are totally disabled and have submitted acceptable medical proof of disability.

For eligible employees, the leave of absence will be provided for up to 26 weeks. In the event of other medical conditions have occurred, the employee shall provide written certificate for their doctor confirming the employee inability to work and will not be able to return to work until the Manager or Human Resources Manager has received medical clearance from the doctor indicating that the employee is medically fit to return. 4) Other Leaves of Absence (Medical, Family and Personal)

A personal leave of absence (PLOA) is an effective means to grant employees who are not eligible for Family Medical Leave with needed time off. Our service to customers is of the utmost importance and will be a factor when considering your request for a personal leave of absence.

Procedure:

1. Application for personal leave absence (PLOA) should be made in writing on the request form provided in the Human Resources Department.
2. Time off in excess of all other types of leave requires a PLOA request.

| | | | |
|----------------------------|-------------------------------|--------------|----------------------------|
| USP120 – Leaves of Absence | General Policies & Procedures | Review Date: | Revision Date: Feb 2008 |

3. Authorized leaves for justifiable and verifiable reasons will require approval from the employee's Department Head and the Managing Partner.
4. Medical Certification approval is needed for medically related requests for leave.
5. The Human Resources Manager must be notified at least thirty (30) days prior to the requested leave. The thirty (30) day notice can be waived at the discretion of the President.
Personal leaves of absence without pay may be granted for medical, family related and personal reasons.

A) Medical Leave:

This type of leave is for a period not to exceed 30 days. At the end of the 30 day leave period you may renew your request for another 30 days. The total leave time available to employees, including extensions, generally shall not exceed 6 months within a 12-month period (measured backward on a rolling basis). Once this leave has been exhausted, employment with the Company may be terminated.

An employee, who through written statement from his/her physician, expects to be off work in excess of five (5) working days, and is not eligible for family medical leave may be granted a medical leave of absence. Medical verification must include the beginning and ending dates of leave and the diagnosis or reason for leave. The statement accompanied with the application for leave must be presented to his or her Supervisor for approval. The Company may require a second medical opinion, at the Company's expense, before the leave is approved.

The approved period of leave will be determined by the ability of the employee to meet the job requirements. A medical opinion, at the Company's expense, may be required before an employee can return to work. Management has the right to determine that the returning employee is physically able to perform the work in a safe manner.

If you have not been medically released to return to work at the end of this leave, your employment may be terminated. If you have been medically released to return to work at the end of this leave, but choose not to return to work, your employment will be terminated.

B) Family Leave

An employee may be granted a personal leave of absence without pay for the following reasons:

1. The birth of a son or daughter of the employee and in order to care for such son or daughter; or
2. The placement of a son or daughter with the employee for adoption or foster care; or 3. In order to care for the spouse, son, daughter or parent of the employee if such spouse, son, daughter or parent has a serious health condition.

Any employee requesting a personal leave will be required to utilize all paid time off for which the employee is entitled prior to being placed on a personal family leave without pay.

Any employee requesting a leave described in #3 above must provide sufficient certification from a physician of the necessity of the leave. This type of leave is for a period not to exceed 30 days.

| USP120 – Leaves of Absence | General Policies & Procedures | Review Date: | Revision Date: Feb 2008 |

Once this leave has been exhausted, employment with the Company may be terminated.

C) Personal Leaves:

Employees may be granted personal leaves of absence without pay for personal reasons. Consideration of a request for leave will be based on the applicant's length of service, overall work record and reason for leave. Each request will be evaluated on the basis of its own merits and not governed by the past or other leaves.

All leaves are subject to current work schedules and requirements and will be discussed with Management for feasibility.

Personal leaves without pay will generally not be granted if the employee has regular earned Paid Time Off available, as an extension to Paid Time Off, for visiting family or friends, or to pursue a company approved certification or licensing educational course.

Leaves are not granted for trying out new work, for self-employment ventures or for any reasons that can be handled in routine ways.

This type of leave is for a period not to exceed 30 days. At the end of the 30 day leave period you may renew your request for another 30 days. The total leave time available to employees, including extensions, generally shall not exceed 6 months within a 12-month period (measured backward on a rolling basis). Once this leave has been exhausted, employment with the Company may be terminated.

PLOA Benefits

During an approved PLOA, the Company will maintain your health benefits, as if you continued to be actively employed. Because a personal leave of absence is always unpaid, you must pay your portion of the health insurance premium (if applicable) in advance or by check during your leave. Your health care coverage will cease if your premium payment is more than 30 days late. If your payment is more than 15 days late, we will send you a letter to this effect. If we do not receive your co-payment within 15 days after the date of this letter, your coverage will end.

PLOA Reinstatement

Depending upon staffing needs and business requirements, the Company will make reasonable attempts to place an employee who returns from an authorized personal leave of absence without pay in the same or equivalent job. However, the Company does not guarantee that your position or any other position will be available when you return from a personal leave of absence.

PLOA Termination

If you do not return to work following the expiration of an approved personal leave of absence without pay, your employment may be terminated.

If you are requesting a leave that is covered by short-term disability or workers' compensation and your claim is denied and you do not return to work, your employment will be terminated.

If you work for another employer during any type of personal leave of absence without pay, your employment may be terminated.

All questions regarding the interpretation of this policy should be directed to the Human Resources Manager.

Subject: Payroll – New York

PURPOSE

To ensure precise compensation payments and accurate maintenance of all Joe Johnson Equipment LLC Inc. employee’s payroll and personal records based on company policies, procedures and legislative requirements.

SCOPE

This policy is applicable to all US employees of Joe Johnson Equipment LLC Inc.

DEFINITIONS (for the purpose of this policy)

The “Company” - Joe Johnson Equipment LLC, may be represented as “JJE”, “JJEI”, “Joe Johnson Equipment”, “the Business” or the “Company” at various times throughout this policy manual.

An “Employee” - Joe Johnson Equipment LLC may refer to an employee as “the employee”, “employees”, “staff”, “team members” or specified position within Joe Johnson Equipment at various times throughout this policy manual.

POLICY

The pay week runs from Sunday to Saturday. Payroll is to be paid out into the employee’s bank account by the payroll service at some point on the Thursday after the pay-period has ended. When payroll is to be paid out the week of a statutory holiday, the timing of payroll payment and pay-stub handout may be delayed by one day.

Pay-stubs are handed out or shipped out on the Thursday of that pay week. If a regular payday falls during an employee’s vacation, the employee’s pay stub will be available upon his or her return from vacation, unless other arrangements have been made with the employee’s Manager.

Salary Based Pay

The Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) is a federal law which requires that most employees in the United States be paid at least the federal minimum wage for all hours worked, and overtime pay at time and one- half the regular rate of pay for all hours worked over 40 hours in a workweek. However, Section 13(a)(1) of the FLSA provides an exemption from both minimum wage and overtime pay for employees employed as bona fide executive, administrative, professional and outside sales employees.

Salary Based Requirements

Being paid on a “salary basis” means an employee regularly receives a predetermined amount of compensation each pay period on a weekly, or less frequent, basis.

The predetermined amount cannot be reduced because of variations in the quality or quantity of the employee’s work. Subject to exceptions listed below, an exempt employee must receive the full salary for any workweek in which the employee performs any work, regardless of the number of days or hours worked. Exempt employees do not need to be paid for any workweek in which they perform no work. If the employer makes deductions from an employee’s predetermined salary, i.e., because of the operating requirements of the business, that employee is not paid on a “salary basis.” If the employee is ready, willing and able to work, deductions may not be made for time when work is not available.

Pay Corrections

Joe Johnson Equipment LLC Inc. takes all reasonable steps to ensure that employees receive the correct amount to pay for each pay period. In the unlikely event that there is an error in the amount paid, the employee should promptly bring the discrepancy to the attention of their Manager or the Payroll Coordinator to ensure corrections are made as quickly as possible. Reports of improper deductions will be promptly investigated. If it is determined that an improper deduction has occurred, you will be promptly reimbursed for any improper deduction made.

Pay Deductions

Various legislative bodies require that JJE make certain deductions from every employee’s compensation. Joe Johnson Equipment LLC may also offer programs and benefits beyond those required by law. Such eligible employees may voluntarily authorize deductions from their pay to cover the costs of participation in these programs. Among these are applicable federal, state and local income taxes. JJE must also deduct Social Security taxes on each employee’s earnings up to a specified limit that is called the Social Security “wage base.” Joe Johnson Equipment matches the amount of Social Security taxes paid by each employee.

Pay offsets are pay deductions taken by Joe Johnson Equipment LLC, usually to help pay off debt or obligation to JJE or others. JJE must follow court orders or garnishee requests, regardless of the employee’s agreement. Employees can expect strict confidentiality in any matters pertaining to deductions or setoffs from paychecks. If the employee has questions concerning why deductions or setoffs were made from their pay, or how they were calculated, they are to contact the PayrollCoordinator.

Deductions from pay are permissible when an exempt employee: is absent from work for one or more full days for personal reasons other than sickness or disability; for absences of one or more full days due to sickness or disability if the deduction is made in accordance with a bona fide plan, policy or practice of providing compensation for salary lost due to illness; to offset amounts employees receive as jury or witness fees, or for military pay; or for unpaid disciplinary suspensions of one or more full days imposed in good faith for workplace conduct rule infractions.

Also, an employer is not required to pay the full salary in the initial or terminal week of employment; for penalties imposed in good faith for infractions of safety rules of major significance, or for weeks in which an exempt employee takes unpaid leave under the Family and Medical Leave Act. In these circumstances, either partial day or full day deductions may be made.

No Employee Loans

Joe Johnson Equipment LLC shall not provide personal loans to employees. Any personal loan requests shall be directed to the Human Resources Manager, and is at the discretion of Joe Johnson Jr., ONLY.

SCOPE: This policy is applicable to all employees of Joe Johnson Equipment (“the company”) who conduct business travel and entertain clients.

POLICY: The Travel and Expense policy is designed to act as a guideline for business travel and entertainment expenses. The primary approach when travelling or entertaining clients is to spend prudently. Limits outlined in this policy are intended to be the upper limits for most circumstances, not an expected spend amount. Amounts in excess of the limits should be only for exceptional situations such as expensive destinations (major cities), should be reviewed with Manager prior to the expense being incurred and the reason for the excess coverage should be explained in the expense report submission. The company reserves the right to decline expenses that are not in alignment with the guidelines and/or are deemed unreasonable. Employees may be subject to payroll deduction in this situation to reimburse the company for the expense.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

Any employees who incur more than $1000.00 USD per year of expenses must use a company credit card, and adhere to the monthly expense claim submission process through Concur. Exceptions to allow use of a personal card for business expenses, versus company card, require written approval from the CFO. In the event that the company credit card cannot be used, the company shall reimburse its employees through Concur once applicable receipts and Manager approval is submitted.

The Employee is responsible for ensuring that claims for reimbursement or payment are submitted through Concur on a monthly basis, and that all expenditures are supported by required detailed receipts.

For Business Meals/ Entertainment/ Customer Relations, the following additional information is required before reimbursement will occur:

- Names of all individuals present, employee and non-employee
- Name and business purpose of meal or event
- Itemized, detailed receipt showing menu items, taxes and tips

A Missing Receipt Affidavit can be completed and used in rare circumstances. Receipts are not required for personal car mileage. Missing receipts or lack of detailed receipts may result in a payroll deduction (if on company credit card) or non-reimbursement (if on a personal credit card). Failure to submit expenses on a monthly basis may result in company credit card being revoked.

Authorized Approvers are Managers who are responsible to ensure all expenses were incurred for reasonable business related expenses, applicable receipts are included with each expense, and ensure employee adherence to the guidelines set out in this policy. This provides clear reporting and tracking. The procedures for the Corporate Credit Card Program are as follows

1. Each individual that is issued a TD Visa will be responsible to account for all purchases made on that card. The only exception is the TD Visa that is issued in the name of Roberta Shaw.
2. All purchases require a PO Requisition Form (Appendix 128-A) to be completed.
3. Inventory items or anything for resale requires a purchase order to be opened in MAS with the appropriate information completed within the system.
4. Authorized signatories will be the same as the purchase authorization list. Please see attached. Only those goods and services authorized are approved for purchase with the credit card.
5. Maximum amount to be charged to the credit card is $1,500. Amounts above this limit must be approved by the controller or VP's.
6. A copy of the signed PO Requisition, receipt and PO must be faxed to the attention of the Controller at 705-436-8502 or emailed within 24 hours of purchase
7. The original receipt must be forwarded to the controller's attention accompanied with the printed PO, receipt of goods and work order showing the goods.

All staff members that carry or use any company credit card(s) must follow these rules of conduct:

- Retain and within seven (7) days provide the Payroll Coordinator with both the credit card receipt and the underlying receipt identifying the item(s) paid. It is vital that both receipts are provided.
- Please also highlight or circle the words "Visa" on the receipt so the Payroll Coordinator is immediately aware of the credit card receipt and transaction. A best practice: circle the word "Visa" at the point-of-sale to ensure this is completed
- On the front of those receipts, write the specific reason for this expense/transaction and designate charges, where possible. For example: "charge against Pickering aerial demonstration", "charge to Shop Supplies", "lunch with Dave Millson of the City of Barrie", etc. Again, this also can be done right at the point-of-sale to ensure an accurate account for the transactions and charges.
- For phone credit card purchases, such as a flight or rental car bookings, ensure a receipt is emailed/faxed immediately to JJE and complete the above requirements. Again, we require both receipts to ensure costs are tracked and monitored accordingly.

Only authorized expenses maybe charged to the credit card. The same authorization applies to the credit cards as it would under any other circumstance. For greater clarity, if you are authorized as part of your job function to incur specific expenses, then you may charge this on the credit card. The credit card does NOT explicitly or implicitly assign additional purchasing authority.

The company has the right to request additional support or documentation to verify the validity of the expense incurred. Should it be found that personal and/or unauthorized charges have occurred, the Employee will be required to pay any such charges to Joe Johnson Equipment LLC, through the deduction of the employee's pay. Payroll deductions will occur on the following payroll cycle and the employee will be provided written notice, including the reason and amount to be deducted, 5 days prior to the deduction in pay.

JJE reserves the right to recover any funds through payroll deduction related to unreasonable use of the vehicle including but not limited to toll charges related to personal travel, damage or major repairs to the vehicle as a result of neglect, and tickets or infractions related to not adhering to traffic legislation.

Taxable Fringe Benefit

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) considers the personal use of a company provided vehicle to be a taxable fringe benefit. Personal mileage is defined as any personal use of the vehicle for commute, personal errands or appointments, vacations, or usage while on a leave of absence.

There are 2 categories of drivers at JJE LLC.; drivers with a regular place of work at a JJE LLC branch and drivers with no regular place of business. To understand the reporting requirements for each category, drivers must identify with one of the categories and follow the appropriate guidelines for their driving scenarios.

1. Drivers with a regular place of work at a JJE LLC Branch

- Transportation from an employee's home to the office and vice versa is considered personal commuting miles.

Drivers who leave the office for business activities may have the following situations:

- Transportation from a JJE LLC office to a temporary work location (customer, business meeting, another JJE LLC branch, training, etc.)
 - The total miles driven between the two locations are business miles.
 - If the employee drives from the temporary location to home, these are considered business miles regardless of distance.
 - If the employee drives to the office after the temporary work location, the transportation from the office to home is considered personal commuting miles.
- Transportation from an employee's home directly to a temporary work location
 - The total miles driven from home to the temporary work location is business mileage regardless of distance.
 - The total miles driven from the temporary work location and home again is business mileage regardless of distance.
 - If the employee drives to the office after the temporary work location, the transportation from the office to home is considered personal commuting miles.

2. Drivers with no regular place of business

- For employees with no regular place of business (no office provided by JJE LLC) mileage from home to a worksite is treated as personal commuting miles (exception below).

- Mileage between the first worksite and subsequent worksites is considered business miles.
- Mileage between the last worksite of the day and home is treated as personal commuting miles.

Exception: Drivers who travel to a temporary work location outside the metropolitan area (city limits and the surrounding suburbs) where the employee resides:

- The mileage between the employee's home and the temporary worksite outside the metropolitan area of residence are business miles.
- The trip home from the temporary worksite outside the metropolitan area of residence are business miles.
- If the last worksite of the day is within the metropolitan area of residence, the trip home is treated as personal commuting miles.

Under IRS general rules, all use of a company car is considered personal use unless the employee documents the business use of the vehicle. To ensure compliance, drivers of company assigned vehicles must submit timely and accurate mileage reports for all business and personal use of the company vehicle. JJE LLC provides a mobile application for daily trip logging and monthly reporting.

The IRS requires that each leg of each business trip be detailed and documented with the date, to and from locations described by city or town, mileage and business purpose. Failure to submit mileage reports may result in the employee being ineligible for a company assigned vehicle.

Insurance

All drivers of company assigned vehicles will be provided with a current insurance slip that must remain in the vehicle. JJE LLC does not provide Extended Accident Benefits coverage with this insurance, and it is recommended that drivers obtain personal auto insurance in addition to the JJE insurance policy.

Personal items that are lost, stolen or destroyed are the responsibility of the driver and may be covered under the driver's personal insurance. Drivers must not leave company assets such as laptop and cell phone in plain view within the vehicle. Doors must be locked when leaving the vehicle.

Maintenance

Drivers must ensure that proof of ownership and insurance is current and present in the vehicle. The vehicle must be repaired, maintained, and inspected in accordance with JJE LLC's fleet management program. Any malfunctions or problems with the vehicle must be addressed in a timely manner and the Fleet Manager should be notified as well as the employee's Manager. Any damage to the vehicle must be reported to the HR department.

As a key advertising tool representing JJE LLC, the vehicle must be always presentable and kept clean inside and out. Tires must be inspected bi-annually for wear. When replacement tires are required, please contact the fleet management department for direction on brands and tire models based on the application and geographical area.

Where the company vehicle is assigned to a department for business purposes, and is used by several drivers, it is the responsibly of each Department Manager to ensure that drivers are eligible to operate the vehicle and follow the maintenance requirements as outlined above.

Fuel Cards

Drivers will be provided with a fuel card issued by the fleet management program. To gauge fuel consumption and operating costs of the vehicle, the card must only be used for fueling the vehicle it is assigned to. Regular fuel should always be used except for diesel-powered vehicles or if the manufacturer specifies premium only.

Toll Devices

Some company issued vehicles are within a geographical area that have toll roads. Toll devices for these vehicles are provided by the fleet management program. Toll devices must only be used for the vehicle they are assigned to and only for business use. Toll road usage must be authorized and guidelines for appropriate usage must be established by the Manager.

If a toll road is used while travelling in the company vehicle for personal reasons, the toll device should not be used, or costs reimbursed to the company if used erroneously.

Returning Company Vehicles

When returning a company assigned vehicle, drivers will remove personal belongings and garbage, clean interior and exterior, ensure fuel tank is full, put extra tires in the bed or trunk, leave fuel/maintenance card and toll device in vehicle, and hand in all keys/remotes.

Accident Reporting

All drivers of company assigned vehicles must do everything reasonable to ensure their safety and the safety of the public while operating a motor vehicle. In the event of a motor vehicle accident contact police. If the accident results in personal injury, seek medical attention immediately and then notify Management. All accidents involving a company assigned vehicle must be reported to the Manager and Human Resources Department for investigation following the Health and Safety Program – P221 Motor Vehicle Accidents and Safe Driving protocols.
